

WEEKS HALL

Tucked in at one corner in the beautiful Prince's Gardens, Weeks Hall boast an exclusivity that no other hall can offer. With just around 64 units of single rooms contained within a cosy 8-floored building, Weeks Hall brings about a nice homely feeling to all its residents.

Located just minutes away from the Imperial College South Kensington Campus, Weeks Hall offers the most affordable non-en suite single room at a stone's throw away from school. Even at such a low price, Weeks Hall is still able to boast facilities and amenities that match up to any other hall's standards. The hall is equipped with cooking kitchens on alternate floors and pantries on all other non-cooking floors. Every resident will be entitled to a freezer, fridge and cupboard space in the cooking kitchens they are assigned to. In the common area, residents can socialize and interact in the generous living space on the ground floor, equipped with a table-tennis and a pool table. The couches and stools are also frequently occupied for social gatherings which include hall dinners and movie screenings on the projector screen. The common room television is also subscribed to cable so sports and movie channels are readily available to residents.

Furthermore, Weeks Hall is located in close proximity to Ethos, which is sports centre for Imperial College. It offers a full sized Olympic swimming pool, a gym, a multi-purpose court as well as many other facilities!

The concept of a room in Weeks Hall is very simple yet modern. The interior of every room is a generous square shaped living space with a large window plane allowing for natural lighting during the day. Every room is equipped with a wash basin as well.

What the seniors who have lived in Weeks Hall really like about it is the peace and quiet that this exclusive hall is able to offer. The units are all well spaced apart, ensuring sufficient privacy for all residents. With only 8 units per level, the amount of disturbance and traffic is kept to a minimum. The security post for the entire Prince's Garden estate is located within the building itself, so safety is not an issue.

In summary, if you're looking for a hall which offers sufficient privacy and tranquillity at a close proximity to school, Weeks Hall is definitely the place to be. So apply and experience the comforts of Weeks Hall of residence!
